SPRING GALA

AUCTION AND RAFFLE ITEMS

MESSAGE FROM THE TPA PRESIDENT

Dear TESIS Parents and Friends,

Our Spring Gala on April 21 celebrates future generations of TESIS Elementary School students. The Building the Future Spring Gala is the result of countless hours of work by TPA volunteers, TESIS staff, and generous donations from our community, sponsors and partners.

This special event is inspired by springtime – a season of new beginnings and blossoming beauty. Our elementary school children are in the springtime of their lives. They delight in even the smallest things and their love of life helps us remember to smile and be happy every day.

We gather tonight to share in our support of the future of this campus, of our common vision, and to help create inspiring spaces for our children. I invite you to browse this booklet and to join us in extending a heartfelt thank you to who have helped to make this event possible.

Our sincere thanks go out to all those who dedicated their time to help make this Gala an unforgettable experience. This includes the TPA Gala Committee of Brunella Pignaton, Francesca Notarbartolo, and Lorenza Fiori, whose enthusiasm and passion have helped create this event; Susan Puckett for organizing the raffle tickets sale with our students' help; Caroline Rossi, our Elementary School art teacher, for working with our children to create the table cards; Yvonne Procyk, Zuleika Tipismana, and Jessica Surer who have supported us daily with their knowledge and extensive experience; Mark Chevalier, Brendan Shea, Michelle Arslanian, and Jacopo Riva for help with communications; the tireless assistance of the maintenance staff headed by Michele Dinelli; Todd Bearden for multimedia and other support needs; Samantha Forrest and Melody Tibbits Zanicchia for inspiring our children and providing us with beautiful music; Luca Ugolotti for managing a host of unseen but essential details; the TASIS Security and IT Departments; Sonny Lim for lending us the Palestra; Tom Lill for organizing the Proctors to sell raffle tickets; and to ES Head Theresa Cullen Hill for helping us promote this event.

Our sincere gratitude goes out to: the Giuliani and Gussalli Beretta families, Julia Loër, Vittoria Marazzi, Natalia Milani and all of our donors who have graciously provided items for our live auction, silent auction, and raffle.

Sincerely,

Laura Colombo

LO SPARVIERE FRANCIACORTA

Lo Sparviere è una cantina storica della Franciacorta, territorio situato a sud del lago d'Iseo e sinonimo di eccellenza vitivinicola per la produzione di bollicine. La struttura dell'azienda risale al XVI secolo e si trova a Monticelli Brusati, zona fra le più vocate di tutta la denominazione. Lo Sparviere appartiene alla famiglia Gussalli Beretta da generazioni ed ha fatto da pioniere alla creazione del gruppo vitivinicolo "Agricole Gussalli Beretta".

FRANCIACORTA D.O.C.G. ROSÉ Monique

Il Franciacorta Rosé Monique è prodotto solo con uve Pinot Nero. La macerazione dei grappoli per 12 ore a temperatura controllata permette l'estrazione del colore che tende al rosa antico con riflessi ramati. La fermentazione avviene parte in acciaio inox e parte in botte piccola. Perlage finissimo, note di acqua di rosa e frutti rossi il Franciacorta Rosé Monique si contraddistingue per l'eleganza, la finezza e la piacevole sapidità.

FRANCIACORTA D.O.C.G. BRUT MILLESIMATO 2012

Il Franciacorta Brut Millesimato 2012 è prodotto solo da Chardonnay. La rigorosa selezione delle uve in vigna e la pressatura soffice dei grappoli sono la matrice delle caratteristiche organolettiche di questo Franciacorta. Colore giallo paglierino brillante, perlage fine e continuo. Il Brut Millesimato 2012 presenta una delicata nota agrumata che regala freschezza al palato. Il Brut millesimato 2012 è stato quest'anno premiato con il massimo riconoscimento dei Tre Bicchieri del Gambero Rosso.

MONICA DE CARDENAS GALLERIA

Gianluca Di Pasquale was born in Rome in 1971 and lives and works in Milan. He is known for creating landscapes featuring figures and details created with precise brush strokes. The dimensions, gestures, and relationships between the figures are intriguing for viewers. Much of his work focuses on places in which we spend our free time, such as parks and paths, woodlands and beaches: places which mediate between nature and civilization and where gatherings are dictated by the shape of the landscape around us. His paintings are frequently characterized by vegetation: branches, leaves, and shrubs which create a lightly woven curtain or background. His works are included in collections around the world, including UBS and Unicredit.

Franco Gervasio ARTIST

Franco Gervasio's "Lights in the Landscape – Moon in Summer Night" was the star of the finissage Lights in Landscape – How Will the Future Be?, held in 2016 at the Museo Casa del Mantegna in Mantova. The title, suggested by the exhibit's curator, Gian Mario Puntelli, was inspired by the the encyclical Laudato Sii by Papa Francesco. The artist has always been actively involved in pictorial and photographic reflections of landscapes, and he has a particular concern for the future of the planet. This concern suggested an interaction with the public so they can express their opinion about the kind of future the landscape could have had. Gervasio studied Theatre and Art and has been a theater director at the DAMS in Bologna since 1978. His interdisciplinary approach includes artistic research and his passion of mixing theater, painting, sculpture and photography.

GALLERIA ALLEGRA RAVIZZA

Nanda Vigo, born in Milan in 1936, focuses her work on the interdisciplinary relationship between art, design, architecture, and the environment. She works in a variety of media and disciplines as an architect as well as designer and artist. Since 1959 she has exhibited her works in galleries and museums throughout Italy and Europe. She is a part of Gruppo Zero and has collaborated with Gio Ponti and Lucio Fontana. In 1965 she edited the legendary exhibition "ZERO avant-garde" in the study of Lucio Fontana a Milan. In 2014/2015 she exhibited at the Guggenheim Museum in New York, at Martin-Gropius-Bau in Berlin, and the Stedelijk Museum in Amsterdam in a special retrospective of ZERO.

"The Cronotopi", or time-space, is conceived by Vigo as a visual filter of our reality, pushing our perceptions beyond the limit of the concrete. This work is made of aluminum and crystal plates of different plots, generating a new temporal dimension that was important to artists in the 1960s and 1970s.

Roberta Savelli, born in 1969, is an internationally-renowned artist who uses painting and drawing to create contemporary portraits and pictorial installations. Using acrylic on transparent gauze, Roberta stages faces or figures of children or adolescents, alone or in groups, immersed in idyllic landscapes. The creative process begins with a studio photograph which captures the character of the individual in that particular moment, and is then refined by painting. In her portraits, Roberta captures the uniqueness of the subject and, by using painting in site-specific installations, creates a compelling spatial relationship. She has exhibited in solo and group exhibitions in galleries and museums in Italy and abroad, including the PAC of Milan. Her works are included in a book published by Skira and New Trends in Painting (Johan and Levi).

FELICE FILIPPINI

Filippini's figurative works, which won him a significant number of awards and acknowledgements, often caused a furore and much opposition, especially in the forties. Success came to him after 1960, to an extent that bears little comparison to the regional art scene. Even today, Felice Filippini, whose extensive and multi-faceted creativity cannot fail to make an impression, remains an awkward figure whose unique characteristics are still awaiting a clear definition. Franco Gervasio ARTIST

In Franco Gervasio's "Lightland" you can feel his love for art and his sensitive fellowship with the impressionists, who were painting en plein-air at the dawn of modernism and who immersed themselves in the nocturnal chills of city lights. You feel his knowledge of the early twentieth century in Turin, the sensitive figurative attention give to portraits and landscapes; the cautious attention given to modern art, from the anger of the CoBrA group to the dances of Pollock, from the whispering and screaming of Marc Tobey to the pressing songs of George Mathieu. In 2007, Franco Gervasio's paintings, pictures, and neon sculptures were exhibited in a retrospective in Istanbul titled Lights in Landscapes and curated by Ahmet Kamil Goren and Luigi Cerutti, with texts by Ahmet Kamil Goren, Luigi Cerutti and Alessandro Ubertis. In the metropolis where East meets West, the soul of the artist had to meet and show itself in a journey that collected and confronted his investigations starting from the late Sixties to the present.
